

Accommodation:

Oxford is not a cheap city to stay in. We have arranged a limited number of single en suite student rooms in Oriel College at a cost of £89 pn B&B (+VAT), or single with shared bathroom at £66 pn B&B (+VAT) for the nights of 6th and 7th September, on a first come first served basis. Please book directly through the Oriel Bed and Breakfast website to reserve accommodation, quoting the code BSRA18

A few rooms may also be available for the night of the 8th September after the end of the conference if you wish to stay and enjoy the sights of Oxford and visit Blenheim Palace (which is closed on 8th Sept).

Further information about the accommodation, and local places of interest to visit can be found here.

Booking.com and other hotel booking websites may be able to offer deals in other hotels or apartments.

University Rooms occasionally has availability in student rooms in other colleges but these do book out quickly.

Parking:

Please note that there is NO PARKING on the college site and parking adjacent in the road is limited to 2 hours per session (with no return within an hour) so is not suitable for the duration of the conference sessions. There are cheaper hotels (Travel Lodge etc) at the Park and Ride sites around the periphery of the city with very regular bus services running until very late at night/early morning, and various bed and breakfast establishments throughout the city. Oxford has several 'hire to ride' bicycle schemes. DO NOT TRY TO GET AROUND THE CITY BY CAR: MANY STREETS ARE CLOSED TO THROUGH TRAFFIC AND HEFTY FINES ARE LEVIED ON UNSUSPECTING VISITORS.

Taxis:

Oxford does not have an Uber service but does have several local taxi companies. There is a dedicated taxi phone in the Porters' Lodge. Examples (without specific recommendations) include:

Royal Cars 01865 777 333

GoGreen Taxis 01865 922 222

OO1 Taxis 01865 240000 or via app
